- Savary has indicated it will provide drill results from other areas within the Karankasso Project in subsequent news releases.

The drilling targeted extensions and infilled previously intersected mineralisation in the Karangosso Zone, which was noted by Savary as being hosted in silicified granite with pyritic quartz-vein zones. Savary also noted that the Karangosso Zone drill program has tested 1,400 metres of strike length at Karangosso, facilitating the interpretation of discrete, parallel gold-bearing zones along a strike length of 900 metres and to a depth of 150 metres (Figure 1).
